

WNTC Joins State Network

Campus radio station WNTC, jointly operated by students at Clarkson College and Potsdam State Teachers College, joined the Empire State Network recently, it was announced by Nick which was inaugurated Tuesday,

Originated by WVBR at Cornell University and WRUR at the University of Rochester, the network's membership now includes WRBS at Sampson College, KSLU at St. Lawrence University and the newest addition, WNTC.

Since this setup will make additional programs available to WNTC, the station will be able to extend its broadcasting schedule. Empire State Network shows now are heard nightly from 9 to 10 p. m., which moves the evening opening hour from 9 to 8 p. m.

Other additions to the station schedule include a morning request show called the Breakfast Club, which was inaugurated Tuesday, May 4 from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. The station's regular hours have been 9 to 11 p.m. since March 17. The new schedule increases the daily broadcasting time from two to four hours.
